RON HUMPHRIES

LANDSCAPE ART

Following a course in Graphic Design at the Birmingham College of Art, Ron worked for many years as a partner in a small Birmingham based print company producing artist's impressions and page layouts mainly for the travel industry.

When a change in his personal circumstances allowed him to take early retirement, he decided to return to his first love and try his luck as a painter specialising in the British countryside and coasts.

For the past eighteen years this has led him to many parts of Britain in a search for interesting subject matter. In the early years he had a piece of good fortune when one of his paintings was selected by the Daily Mail as part of a promotion they were doing to encourage traditional values in British Art. It was exhibited in the prestigious Mall galleries in Central London and also featured in their weekend supplement. This led to a considerable increase in demand for his work and since then he has had several one man shows and his work is now available through galleries both in the U.K. and the United States.
